

Climate Follies

a collection of short plays by Jim Poyser

Climate Follies by Indiana playwright Jim Poyser is a comedy about the unfunniest thing ever: the climate crisis. Who are the actors? You! Audience members can sit back and enjoy the plays or choose to help present it; scripts will be available the evening of the show for “cold reads” by willing participants. Youth and adults are invited to participate, including local climate activists who will share local opportunities for action.

Jim Poyser joined Earth Charter Indiana (ECI) in 2013 after a previous career in journalism and is now ECI’s Director of Advancement. Born and raised in South Bend, Jim was honored by the Hoosier Environmental Council with an Environmentalist of the Year award, and in 2019 he was named one of United Way of Central Indiana’s 100 Heroes.

Saturday, April 22nd, 6:00-8:00pm

$5 suggested donation

Marshall J Gardner Center for the Arts

540 S Lake Street, Gary, IN 46403

millerbeacharts.org mbacdarts@gmail.com 219/885-9114

MILLER BEACH ARTS & CREATIVE DISTRICT

Presented in Association with the exhibit “Fearsome Fable – Tolerable Truth”

